

Tickets go on sale this week for the Geek Meets Girl: The Musical.

Choir and Drama III have put together Inglewood's first ever, original musical and it plays this Friday and Saturday night at Eastlake High School Theatre.

Geek Meets Girl tells the story of Ned, a nerd, who falls for Heather, a popular girl. Ned will do whatever it takes to try to win Heather and in the process he learns a lot about his schools different cliques and groups.

Geek Meets Girl: The Musical will be presented on the Eastlake stage, this Friday and Saturday, January 9 and 10 starting at 7:00 PM, both nights.

Tickets are $4.00 and will be sold at Ms. King's window or the Student Store all week. If there are any tickets left they will be sold at the door.

PS: This event qualifies for Arts Alive in 9th Grade Humanities classes.
